Ashot Harutyunyan

Junior Frontend Developer

Hi, I'm Ashot. From an early age, I've always been interested in computer games and apps. From the age of thirteen, I went to the TUMO Center and from there came up with the idea of unlimited Internet opportunities. From the age of seventeen, I became interested in web programming. I am a calm person by nature, I quickly get along with new people, I am responsible and patient. I will be happy to join a new team, invest my knowledge in the progress of any business, acquire new knowledge and use it for my team, I will be happy to share my success with my colleagues.
